QUICKFLEX™ INSTALLATION SYSTEM

Designed to Work for Everyone

At Formetco we've always designed products with the whole outdoor industry in mind and our QuickFlex™ System is a great example of that philosophy. We started by building it around the standard poster panel so it would be universal, then refined it to work with every kind of substrate, lightweight and standard vinyl, even paper.

Of course it's made of the best components so it's not only the most durable it's also the lowest cost of ownership. Since all the hardware is hidden behind the trim, you never have to worry about the effects of wind or rain. Plus, since you don't see the hardware, your always graphics look great.

To be truly universal you have to consider printing and production, so we've designed a system that requires no pockets or finishing, you simply cut the graphic to size, saving time and money. Every printer you work with can produce graphics for the system with no special requirements.

So, if you want to work with everyone, there's only one system, The QuickFlex™ Installation System.
